

Honey Letter 2003

This year the bees were doing so well that we didn't pay very much attention to them. We had several other distractions to tend to. When we went to harvest our honey in August, two of the hives had swarmed because they were so prosperous and over crowded. So this year, there is no new honey, only a few pictures of Aubrey and Beau.

Beau had his heart repaired in March.

Here he is a week after surgery.

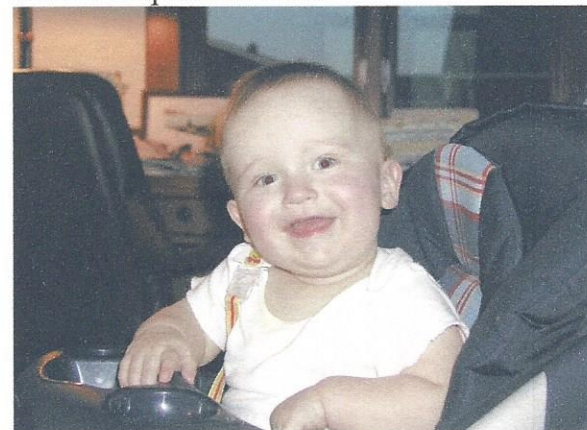

This is all of us in July.
